Real people, real results

Priya Sharma - Graphic Designer, Mumbai

Borrowed ₹3,00,000 for a studio setup. Her testimonial focuses on seeing the full cost upfront and avoiding hidden surprises.

Rohit Gupta - Software Engineer, Bangalore

Borrowed ₹1,50,000 through a short-term loan for a medical emergency. His testimonial focuses on clarity around interest rates.

8. About RichPay

Clarity was always the missing piece

The website states that:

RichPay Fincorp Private Limited, formerly known as Malwa Leasing & Credits Private Limited, is registered as an NBFC, Investment & Credit Company (NBFC-ICC) with the Reserve Bank of India.

It says RichPay began retail operations under the “Richpay” brand in June 2026.

The company describes itself as a technology-driven NBFC/digital lender offering unsecured personal loans across approximately 450 cities/towns in India.

Vision

To become one of India's most trusted digital lending platforms by making credit:

- * Accessible
- * Affordable
- * Transparent
- * Customer-centric

Mission

Provide fast, hassle-free access to credit, with full transparency, privacy protection, and compliance with RBI guidelines.

9. Brand Values

Transparency

All charges disclosed upfront, no fine print, no surprises.

11. Our Journey

The website currently says:

2021 — Founded
RichPay FinCorp launched with a mission to make personal lending fast and transparent.

2022 — First 500 Loans
Reached 500 approved loans within the first year.

2024 — 34,000+ Borrowers
Over ₹25Cr facilitated and 34,000+ borrowers served across India.

 One thing you should NOT blindly use in marketing

There is a clear timeline inconsistency on the website.

The About section says RichPay started retail operations under the RichPay brand in June 2026, while the Journey section says:

- * Founded — 2021
- * 500 loans — 2022
- * 34,000+ borrowers — 2024

That needs clarification from the client before you turn these into social-media claims. Don't publish both narratives as-is.

12. Mobile Experience

Same clarity, anywhere.

The website says users can:

- * Check rates

- * Apply for loans
- * Track loan status
- * Get real-time application/disbursement updates
- * View EMI schedules
- * Contact support

It also mentions:

Biometric security
Face ID and fingerprint login.

The app is shown as “Coming soon” on both App Store and Google Play.
